Marc Van Eyck, born in 1957 in Louvain, Belgium, attended the Royal Carillon School "Jef Denyn" in Mechelen, Belgium and was awarded his diploma with „distinction“ in 2001. He is a member of the school's board of directors and the carillonneur of the Saint Gertrude Church in Louvain. He has given concerts in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Norway, Portugal, Russia, Switzerland and the USA, was the editor of the carillon magazine 't Schipke and has written several articles about the carillon. He investigates carillons world wide and works on improving their tractions. At the moment he is the consultant for a project to install a new carillon with 51 bells in the city of Aarschot. It is hoped that the instrument can be dedicated on November 11, 2018, the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I.
